To be considered as Continuing Education (CE) eligible for IMSLEC CEUs, the activity content and learning outcomes must be related to the sciences as they pertain to dyslexia and related disorders or to related fields, such as learning disabilities and speech and language disorders. Offerings from the following professional disciplines may be considered: learning disabilities speech and language, linguistics, child development, developmental psychology, neuropsychology, neurology and neuroscience. Activities, content, and level must be beyond requirements of IMSLEC-accredited courses and must contribute to the acquisition of new skills and knowledge.

IMSLEC-approved Continuing Education (CE) offerings will be limited to the following:

IMSLEC-accredited training course sponsored activities, including distance learning; offerings of the International Dyslexia Association (IDA) and its branches; the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) and its branches; the Academic Language Therapy Association (ALTA); and The Academy of Orton-Gillingham Practitioners and Educators (AOGPE).

Subject to the approval of course directors, IMSLEC Continuing Education (CE) credit may be given for presentations offered by other organizations (not listed above) provided that the training course graduate attaches documentation to the certificate of attendance showing that the speaker has previously presented for one of the organizations that is listed.
